Agreed. We'll get the waiver packets out today on Thomas and Jones.

Thanks

Jim

Jim,

I have just learned that Rich will also be representing Tarron Richardson, and Erin McNeil with the Attorney General's Office will be representing Becky Crannis-Curl. I believe both Richardson and Crannis-Curl have been served and would like to enter into the extension agreement we discussed with respect to the City. Rich plans to draft and circulate a proposed motion and order if that is amenable to you.

We would just need waiver of service for Thomas and Jones.

Thanks,
Missy

Yes, please.

I'll let Rich know about the extension regarding the City and have him prepare a motion/order for filing.

Thanks,
Missy

That's agreeable. Do you want me to send waiver packets out?

Jim,

To my knowledge, Thomas and Jones have not yet been served.

My suggestion would be a waiver of service for them (so that responsive pleadings are due 60 days from today), and an extension for the City so that its responsive pleadings are due on the same date. Is that agreeable?

Thanks,
Missy

Missy,

We are happy to agree to any reasonable extensions you need. What did you have on mind?

Jim,

I just left you a voicemail regarding the matter below.

I am out of the office until Wednesday, so email or my cell (804-914-1495) is the best way to reach me.

Thanks,
Missy

Elmer,

David Corrigan and I will again be representing Al Thomas in the Kessler case. Rich Milnor will be representing the City of Charlottesville, and Rosalie Fessier will be representing Maurice Jones.

I believe that some of the defendants have been served, but I wanted to reach out regarding a waiver of service and/or agreement on extension of time to file responsive pleadings similar to the agreement we filed in the prior case. Would you and Mr. Kolenich be amenable to such an agreement?

Please let us know.

Thanks,

Missy
